MEXICO CITY (AP) — Fidel Castro seems to be sliding down hill as a Latin-American leader of revolution and his power to provoke violence appears to be declining.

Evidence gathered on a tour of much of Latin America points clearly to this, even though a fairly strong Castroist organization remains in the Dominican Republic and there still exist some pockets of armed extremist strength elsewhere.

If the Dominican threat is contained, Castro is likely to slip further. Bombastic pronouncements come from Havana about the imminence of revolution in some places — such as Venezuela. But to veteran students of Latin-American communism, this has the look of smokescreen, hiding an inability to arouse violent reaction even on so potentially explosive an issue as the U.S. action in the Dominican Republic.

Depends On Moscow

There are several reasons behind Castro's downward slide as a hero in the eyes of young revolutionary militants. One big one is the Moscow-Peking argument. Another is Cuba's obvious internal difficulty. A third concerns developments in Latin America over the past five years.

Despite the difficulties, the impact of increasing U.S. interest in building up the hemisphere and the memory of President John F. Kennedy have been among strong influences for change in attitudes.

Castro appears to be backing away from the effort to sustain the pro-Chinese line of constant uproar and revolution, which has proved both difficult and expensive. He seems to be pulling in his horns a bit, as if hopeful of insinuating Cuba into the family of Hispanic America if only to the extent of trade relations.

It has not been a matter of choice with Castro but a matter of necessity. His heart all along has been with the Red Chinese line, but his stomach has depended on Moscow. Without Soviet aid Communist Cuba could hardly exist.

Bursting Dams Add To Denver Flood Misery

DENVER (AP) — Rampaging rivers and creeks, fed by continuing rains, heaped more misery and property damage today on flood-stricken Colorado.

At least four dams burst and numerous bridges washed out late Thursday night in the eastern and southern parts of the state. The floods have left hundreds homeless and damaged many businesses.

The state patrol reported Agate Dam was knocked out, about 65 miles east of Denver. As a result, U.S. 40 was closed by the patrol from Strasburg to the Kansas line.

Dams were reported burst on Big Sandy Creek in El Paso County and on the Fountain River north of Pueblo. Cripple Creek Dam was reported collapsed, sending high water toward the Arkansas River near Canon City.

A 13-year-old girl drowned when she attempted to cross a swollen creek near Loveland.

Meanwhile, the metropolitan area of Denver continued to dig out of the mess left by the South Platte River.

Surveying flood damage to his home district, Rep. Roy McVicker, D-Colo., said: "It isn't possible."

Representatives of federal and state agencies planned to meet in Denver to discuss flood relief action for the city and other areas of the state. President Johnson said the federal government would offer every resource at its command to the stricken areas.

The Red Cross disaster team gave a tragic boxscore of estimated flood damage: 1,350 families suffered loss; 30 homes destroyed; 175 homes received major damage; 450 homes received minor damage; 89 house trailers destroyed; 179 trailers damaged; 62 small businesses damaged.

Eastern New Mexico today was a land of lakes, ponds and swollen, tumbling streams after three to eight inches of rain poured onto the eastern slopes of the southern Rocky Mountains Thursday night.

The rains, heaviest in the northwest corner east of Santa Fe and north of Roswell, came one day after the deluges that washed the Denver metropolitan area 300 miles to the north.

At least two persons were killed in a traffic accident in the blinding rainstorm east of Raton.

Authorities said that until communications were restored, there was no way of telling how many casualties there might be.

Five blocks in Springer were evacuated as the swollen Cimarron River spread over the town of 1,500 population. Bridges on the Canadian River and many smaller streams either were washed out or under water. Stretches of seven highways in the areas were closed by floodwater. Cars and buses and even the Santa Fe Railway's Grand Canyon passenger train were stranded in the Raton area.

Mighty Titan Rocket Fired In First Test

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —

A triple-barreled Titan 3C — the mightiest rocket ever fired — scored a resounding success on its maiden test flight today and gave the United States a great boost toward developing a military space capability.

The huge rocket drilled into orbit 115 miles high a 21,000-pound dummy satellite that could be the forerunner of manned and unmanned military machines which would patrol and perhaps control outer space.

The Titan 3C—actually three rockets lined up single file — thundered away from its launching pad at 9 a.m. EST on 2.65 million pounds of thrust generated by two solid-fuel boosters.

A combination of weather and technical troubles blocked an effort to put it up Thursday.

Hooked between the two 85-foot-tall solid-fuel boosters was a three-stage liquid-fuel Titan A rocket. This 127-foot-tall segment was designed to ignite 24 miles up and provide 474,000 pounds of high-altitude thrust to push the satellite into orbit.

Governor Gets School Aid Bill Of 524 Million

LANSING (AP) — After it approved a record $71 million hike in state school aid Thursday, the House gave preliminary assent to a bill for some $1.75 billion in non-classroom services for private and parochial school students.

The $524 million school aid bill cleared its last legislative hurdle and was on its way to Gov. George Romney for action. The House concurred in Senate changes to the bill, already passed by both chambers.

The bill, signed by virtually the entire Senate membership, was changed in the House, however, to give the legislature control over any new services to be extended to the non-public school children.

Instead of a broad range of "auxiliary" services, the bill now provides a specific list of services.

They include street crossing guards, health and nursing services, speech correction, diagnostics for the mentally handicapped, counselor and consultant services for the emotionally disturbed and mentally handicapped, and remedial reading.

In other action, the House voted a $1.8 million boon to the state's 2,200 licensed package liquor dealers.

Dealers are allowed a 10 per cent markup on the liquor they buy from the state, but complain 4.8 per cent in nuisance taxes have been added to the purchase price of liquor since the formula went into effect.

They wanted the nuisance taxes computed in the cost before they purchased the liquor from the state, increasing their profit margin.

Soviets Honor President Tito

MOSCOW (AP) — Yugoslav President Tito arrived in Moscow today for talks with Soviet leaders on the split in the Communist world.

Tito was met at the Moscow airport by Soviet Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev, Premier Alexei Kosygin, President Anastas I. Mikoyan and other top Soviet officials.

It was the Yugoslav leader's first meeting with Brezhnev and Kosygin since they replaced Nikita Khrushchev last fall.

The Russians gave Tito a conspicuously warm welcome, adding ceremonial touches that were omitted for recent visitors to Moscow.

A 21-gun salute, which Soviet protocol officials said had been dropped from the Soviet official visitor's greeting ceremony, was fired in Tito's honor.

Tax Cut Measure Goes To President

WASHINGTON (AP) — The big excise tax cut bill is on President Johnson's desk. It does away with most of the federal sales taxes, hangovers from Korean War days and even earlier.

It was indefinite when Johnson would sign it into law. He was asked about it at a news conference Thursday, but gave no definite answer.

Price tags on autos and a number of household and gift items will be lowered the day after the bill is signed. Other reductions will be in stages. By 1969, when the whole thing is in effect, the estimated annual tax saving for John Q. Public will be $4.6 billion.

Car Buyers Save

When all the cuts are in effect, the major remaining excise taxes will be those on liquor and cigarettes, a 1 per cent tax on automobiles — down from 10 per cent — and a group of taxes considered to be user charges for highways and other special facilities.

The most visible tax cut to be triggered by the President's signature probably is the first-stage reduction in the automobile excise tax — it amounts to about $70 on an average car; more, of course, on higher-priced models. The reduction is from 10 per cent to 7 per cent of the manufacturer's price, the first stage in a phasing out that would bring the tax down to 1 per cent Jan. 1, 1969.

The first-stage automobile tax cut is retroactive to purchases May 15 or later. So is the repeal of the 10 per cent manufacturers' tax on air conditioners.

The blaze was believed to have started in the basement of the store.

President And Cabinet Study Peace Hopes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and his Cabinet meet today to review diplomatic proposals for ending the war in Viet Nam and, to quote Johnson, discuss "certain other hopes for peace that we are evaluating and considering."

Certain to figure in the discussion was a new move by British Commonwealth prime ministers to establish a five-member peace-seeking mission that will seek talks with governments concerned.

Suggestions Welcomed

Johnson told a 95-minute news conference Thursday that he welcomed this initiative.

"We are very happy they have made this suggestion," he said. "We have talked to them, communicated with them about it and they will have our full cooperation."

But Johnson volunteered at another point that someone who contacted top officials of Communist North Viet Nam in behalf of the United States reported as recently as June 7 "they are not now interested in any negotiations of any kind." Johnson said he got a similar report from the same source, not identified, on Feb. 15.

The President, who did not go into detail on the peace ideas placed on the Cabinet agenda, made it clear in response to a question that he does not favor negotiation with the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas in South Viet Nam. He said they represent no government.

Has Ample Power

Asked if he was thinking about asking Congress for a broader mandate to prosecute the Viet Nam war, Johnson said he has ample power as commander in chief and that a resolution Congress passed last August authorized "all necessary measures."

In one of the opening statements at the presidential talkfest — his longest news conference to date — Johnson condemned recent violations of the cease-fire agreement in the Dominican Republic.

He said unprovoked attacks on American and Brazilian troops there "appear to have been premeditated by elements which seek to prevent the establishment of peace in Santo Domingo."

Johnson, who did not identify these elements, said Inter-American forces "will continue to observe the same soldierly restraint that they have shown now for more than seven weeks."

Budget Balance Sighted

Other highlights of the conference, held in Johnson's oval office:

— Current estimates place the budget deficit for the fiscal year that ends June 30 at $3.8 billion — down from a January forecast of $6.3 billion. Johnson, reporting revenues up more than expected and spending down, said, "This is good news to all of you who look forward, as we do, to a balanced budget in the years ahead."

— Former Gov. J. P. Coleman of Mississippi and U.S. District Judge Homer Thornberry, once Johnson's Texas congressman, will be nominated for judgeships on the Circuit Court of Appeals. This court hears many civil rights cases.

— Stephen Ailes will resign as secretary of the Army on July 1. Undersecretary Stanley R. Resor will be nominated to succeed him, with David E. McGuffert, an assistant to the secretary of defense, tagged to replace Resor.

Talks Overtime

— Undersecretary of the Navy Kenneth E. Belieu will resign July 1. Robert H. B. Baldwin of the Wall Street investment banking firm of Morgan Stanley will be nominated to succeed him.

— Johnson said again he isn't going to try to name city mayors. He was talking about the scramble for the Democratic nomination for mayor of New York.

— The United States definitely will build a supersonic airliner if Congress provides the money needed — up to a billion dollars, Johnson said.

— Presidential assistants Horace Busby and Douglass Cater

State Budget Edges Up To Estimated 820 Million

LANSING (AP) — Legislators pulled down their University of Michigan battle flags today as the 1965-66 state budget edged slightly upward to an estimated $820 million.

A House faction gave up on its plans to use a U-M budget cut of $6.27 million as a club in negotiations with the Senate over the fate of House-approved spending Thursday.

"I can't go along with this (restoring the U-M appropriation at this time)," said Rep. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, one of the faction leaders "but to spare useless bloodshed, we will haul down our flag."

Other Colleges Lose

The reason became obvious later when the voting strength of each side was put to a test. The restoration was approved 72-8.

The restoration of specific reference to the U-M Flint branch and of the 1965-66 budget to $50.55 million was accompanied by a loss of $4.27 million in newly acquired funds for Michigan State University, Michigan Tech, Wayne State and Western Michigan universities, Ferris and Grand Valley state colleges.

Wayne lost $2.5 million it picked up when the House Ways and Means Committee trimmed Michigan a week ago; Western lost $1 million; Michigan Tech lost $250,000 and MSU and Oakland University lost a combined $250,000 for library books; Grand Valley lost $200,000 and Ferris $75,000.

The House approved board of education staff salary cuts from the Senate-recommended level and added $150,000 for a manpower training center at MSU, $143,000 for the cooperative extension service and $200,000 for an institute of gerontology, to be run jointly by Michigan and Wayne.

The net effect is a hike of $3.8 million in the general fund budget from $186.2 recommended when House and Senate money committees reported out the bills last Friday.

It still was a low figure compared with the $860 million recommended spending had reached earlier in the session.

Rep. Charles Conrad, D-Jackson, pleaded for the retention of all the increases.

"There was a rationale to what we did; it was not all mid-night madness," he said. "Few people understand these increases were not just gobbling up of the slice taken from Michigan."

We had hoped the higher education budget would be increased substantially. The needs of these other schools are very real."

Pierre Salinger Weds Writer In Third Marriage

PARIS (AP) — Former White House press secretary Pierre Salinger was married today to Nicole Helen Gillmann, 26-year-old writer for a group of Paris magazines.

It was the third marriage for the 46-year-old Salinger, who met his bride last October when she came to the United States to cover his California campaign for the U.S. Senate. The marriage was Miss Gillmann's first.

Salinger's second wife, Nancy, obtained an uncontested divorce Tuesday in Hot Springs, Ark.

Deer Winter Kill Relatively Light

Deer suffered a severe winter in northern Marquette County with resultant heavy starvation losses this spring — but the remainder of the district that includes Delta, Marquette and the west half of Alger counties had relatively light winter losses of deer.

This is the report from Joseph Vogt, district game biologist, Department of Conservation.

Heaviest losses were in the Huron Mountain and Echo Lake deer yards. Here 18 starved deer were confirmed with another 32 dead deer reported found by others. The bulk of last year's fawn crop plus many age does were probably lost in those areas. It is of some comfort to know that only a small part of the district's deer herd yards here. Thus the total effect on the district will not be great, Vogt said.

Over Protection
Of 74 deer autopsies this spring, 28 were starved. The remaining losses were attributed to crippling, illegal kill, predators, cars, trains and unknown. This compares with 96 starved of 177 deer autopsied following the severe winter of 1961-62.

"It is significant to note that the greatest losses occurred in areas where the antlerless kill was lightest. Northern Marquette and west Alger counties last season had an antlerless kill of 0.4 deer per section, while south Marquette and west Delta counties had an antlerless harvest of 1.6 deer per section," he reported.

"The Huron Mountain area which sustained very heavy starvation losses is a classical

Seek Fairest As Fair Queen

The most beautiful of Upper Peninsula queens will reign as queen of the U. P. State Fair to be held here Aug. 17-22.

The candidates, each a queen in her own right, are being invited to compete for the U. P. Fair queen title and to represent the region at the Michigan State Fair in Detroit, said Mrs. Lency Clairmont of Escanaba, the queen contest director.

"Groups and organizations from communities across the Peninsula are invited to enter their queens in the regional event," said Mrs. Clairmont. "Girls who are queens of Homecomings, Centennials, 4th of July celebrations, Sports Shows and other events will be welcomed as candidates."

The local queen must have a sponsor, such as a Chamber of Commerce, service club or other group. The sponsor is asked to write to Mrs. Clairmont, Queen Contest Director, 720 S. 10th St., Escanaba, to obtain application blanks.

The deadline for applications is Aug. 6, but sponsors are asked to apply as early as possible. Mrs. Clairmont's phone number is ST6-7016.

U. P. State Fair queen candidates must be single and between 16 and 22 years of age to be eligible to enter, and she must have a sponsor. The Fair queen is judged on the basis of talent and personality as well as beauty.

Last year's U. P. Fair queen was Miss Gerri Ann Dewane of Menominee. She will be invited to participate in the ceremonies at which the new queen is crowned.

Fleet Blessing Is Scheduled

MENOMINEE—The 17th annual Blessing of the Fleet and the first at Menominee's newly created Great Lakes Memorial Marina Park, will be held Sunday, July 25, with Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, Bishop of the Catholic diocese of Upper Michigan officiating.

Started in the villages of Garden and Fayette on the Delta County Garden Peninsula on Big Bay de Noc on July 4, 1949, the event was held at Fayette harbor for 16 years.

Rev. Fr. James J. Schaefer, pastor of Church of Epiphany in Menominee, originated the Blessing of the Fleet when he was pastor at Garden and had the mission at Fayette.

"Blessing of the fleet is as old as Christianity," Fr. Schaefer said. "I knew of fishing fleet ceremonies on the east coast and we decided to try it on the Great Lakes. It is the only one of its kind on the lakes, but there are others on the gulf coast and both oceans."

Blessing of the fleet is open to all waterfront on the Great Lakes, but will draw primarily from Green bay waters where there are thousands of pleasure craft and small commercial vessels.

The blessing event will follow by a day the M & M Yacht Club's annual 100 Mile Sailing race, one of the highlight racing events on the lakes. The 100-mile always follows a week behind the Chicago-to-Mackinac race and usually draws several entries from that race en route to home ports on lower Lake Michigan.

Events include a noon luncheon for Bishop Noa and civic and religious officials, a procession from mid-town to the Marina where the bishop will board a boat for a tour of the Marina and harbor.

Church organizations plan open air dinners in the park area for the thousands of visitors expected.

Oldest Building Is Being Razed

BY MRS. I. R. NELSON

BARK RIVER — The oldest building in the Bark River area is being razed by Robert Bergstrom Sr., retired carpenter, who bought the building for something to do and to salvage the lumber. Augustus Hakes, Gust, as he was so familiarly known, built the 17 x 26 foot story and a half log house about 1879 or earlier.

Gust Hakes came to Bark River from New Castle, Wis., in November 1873. Quoting Mr. Hakes: "On November 25, 1873, I stepped off the train carrying a 13 pound muzzle loader and took a homestead." This was

New Bill Pays Auto Damages

LANSING (AP) — Ever been left holding the financial bag when an uninsured motorist smashed into your car?

The state will pay you — and then make sure the uninsured driver doesn't get off for nothing — under terms of an auto accident claims bill approved 24-11 by the Senate Thursday night.

If the House concurs in several senate amendments to the bill it earlier approved and Gov. George Romney signs it as he is expected to do, the fund will begin operation Nov. 1.

Fund Bill Up
The basics of the operation are this:

The owner of every vehicle must present evidence of his auto insurance when he purchases his vehicle license plate. If he has no insurance, he pays $25 into the fund for the privilege of operating the vehicle in the state for the year. If he has insurance, he pays $1 into the fund.

Based on estimates that 15 per cent of the motor vehicles in Michigan are not insured, the fund could start with about $15 million to $19 million from 1966 license purchases.

If you're damaged by an uninsured driver, you could apply to the secretary of state for up to $10,000 for one personal death or injury, $20,000 total for the accident and $5,000 for property damage. Claims for less than $50 would not be honored.

Used In Ontario
If your claim is valid, the state would pay you and set about collecting the money back from the uninsured motorist. The uninsured person would lose his driving privilege until he at least began regular payment to the state for the damages he caused.

The fund would pay off in hit-run cases only for death or injury to avoid fake hit-run claims by drivers damaging their own cars.

If the state doubts your claim, the question would be resolved in court.

In the Province of Ontario, after whose plan the Michigan proposal is copied, only about 15 per cent of cases go to court.

If the law is enacted, claims will be honored for accidents after Jan. 1, 1966.

about three miles south of Bark River next to John Gasman's homestead. Gasman helped him build a camp from the bark peeled from the virgin timber which was burned to clear the land. In the spring of 1874 he built a log cabin around a big stump which he used for a table. A block of wood was used as a chair.

Fire Destroys Camp

His brother, Charles, came to live with him. He drove from Campbellsport, Wis., to Green Bay with a horse and buggy. From there he drove along the bark until he came to the Bark River. The first cabin he came to on the river happened to be the one he was looking for.

He eyed the situation and said, "Gosh darn it, Gus, we can't live like this."

The very next day they walked through the woods about 10 miles to Ford River Mills. Here they bought enough lumber, which they carried home on their shoulders, to remodel the camp. The old stump table was taken out. A couple new benches replaced the blocks of wood.

Now that they had a horse they had to have a warm barn. They cut hay on the land and carried it on poles to the barn. In late fall they thought they had earned a little time off so they went hunting. A little fire was left in a log heap. A wind came up and when they returned they had no camp, no barn, no buggy. They had only the clothes they were wearing. They found the horse in the woods.

Well Constructed

The next move was to buy the forty where the A. A. Hakes home stands and is now being demolished. He bought his first yoke of oxen from Ike Stephenson of Wells, Mich., and began farming.

His sister, Nancy, kept house for him, kept boarders and in the spring of 1880 was Bark River's first teacher. She married John Gasman that year and Gus Hakes married in 1881. A frame addition was built to the original log house in the early 1900's, covered with siding and painted.

After his death in 1927 his daughter, Mrs. Flora Hakes Maas, lived there for a number of years before moving to Iron Mountain, then rented the farm to the late Henry Hoes until his death. The barn burned last year and all that remained was the house and that, too, will soon be gone.

The old log house, so sturdily built of hand hewn logs and dovetailed corners, is a mute testimony of the ingenuity and ability of the pioneers who could wield a broad axe to square off the logs almost as smoothly as the modern day saws.

The Recreation Department has announced that the municipal swimming beach at Ludington Park will open for the summer Saturday, June 19. Life guards will be on duty from 10 a. m. to 8:45 p. m.

Francis Lueneburg, beginning his 19th year at the beach, will again serve as director. Lueneburg has 18 years' experience as chief life guard and swimming instructor.

Tom McKie, water safety instructor, will conduct the Junior and Senior Life Saving classes for boys and girls 12 years of age and older. He will be assisted by Susan Snyder who worked with the girls in the Beginners Division last year. Miss Snyder is a graduate of National Aquatic School.

Courses in the Swimmers, Intermediate, and Advanced Classes will be offered with Marvin Lueneburg in charge. Lueneburg is attending this year's National Aquatic School at Holly, Michigan but will be available for beach duty on June 28.

In addition to directing all the activities at the beach, Francis Lueneburg will instruct the boys in the Beginners Division. Linda Wylie, who will graduate from National Aquatic School on June 26, will conduct the classes for girls in the Beginners Division.

Lifeguard duty will be shared by Tom Meinz and Tom Bjorkquist, two new faces at the beach this summer. Both Meinz and Bjorkquist are holders of Senior Life Saving Certificates. All instructors and guards have been trained under the American Red Cross water safety program.

The concession facility in the lobby of the beach house will be operated under the direction of St. Anne's Church. A checking system for clothing will be available for children and adults for a nominal fee. Playground equipment has been installed at the waterfront along with picnic tables to serve the general public.

Swimming lessons will be offered in cooperation with the American Red Cross. Registrations will begin on Monday, June 21, and continue through July 3. Classes will start on Tuesday, July 6, at 10 a. m. Boys and girls from the City of Escanaba will be given instructions on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings with youngsters from the Townships being served on Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 10 until noon.

The City Recreation Department urges all youthful non-swimmers to take advantage of the free program of instruction offered by the City of Escanaba. Regular attendance at the swimming classes will teach a youngster to swim safely and to be prepared to save a life in the event of an emergency in or near a water area.

Children under eight years of age must be supervised by their parents and immature youngsters should not be left at the beach for wading or swimming.

16 Area School Teachers Leave, List Vacancies

Luther M. Barrett, Superintendent of the Escanaba Area Public Schools, said today 16 teachers will not return to the school system to teach next year.

Ten of the teachers are from secondary schools and six from the elementary level.

Barrett said he considered this a "normal" turnover.

The turnover represents about 10 per cent of the Escanaba Area staff of about 160 teachers.

Last fall, prior to passage of an additional operating tax of 4.5 mills, school officials had expressed fear that a sizable number of teachers would seek positions in other school systems because of the unstable financial picture in the area school system.

Barrett said that reasons teachers gave for leaving the system included other positions, transfer of husbands, leaving teaching and moving from the area.

Mrs. Ruth Swaby, who taught second grade at the John Lemmer School last year, has announced her retirement.

Other elementary teachers leaving the system are: Helen Masterson, Lemmer fourth grade; Lois Friberg, Lemmer fifth grade; Mrs. Rita Brady, Wells fourth grade; Mrs. Jeanne Broker, elementary music; and Mrs. Lillian Brookes, elementary librarian.

Secondary-level teachers leaving are: Mrs. Clara Embs, strings-orchestra; Mrs. Dorothy Jones, junior high art; William Finlan, English and journalism; Mrs. Bonnie Haapala, English; Edward Havitz, geography-history; William Krieger, physics; William Noonkesser, general science; Richard Olivanti, government; Robert Vadnais, English-speech; William Suriano, guidance.

Vacancies Listed

Barrett said the Area School system has 15 vacancies on its teaching staff to fill before the start of school this fall. They include six at the Area High School, two in the junior high and seven in elementary schools.

High school needs include three English teachers, one to double in journalism and the other to double in speech, a geography-history teacher, a general mathematics instructor and a guidance counselor. An 8th grade general science instructor and a strings-orchestra teacher are needed at the Junior High.

Elementary vacancies are a combined third-fourth grade teacher for Cornell, kindergarten at Lemmer, kindergarten and fourth grade at Soo Hill, fourth grade at Wells, sixth grade at the Junior High and a visiting music teacher.

THE ESCANABA National Bank's new director is George S. Douglas, general manager of the Mead Corp. Escanaba Division, it is announced by Stack Smith, Escanaba National Bank president. Douglas was elected a director of the bank at a board meeting Wednesday night.

Loomis Kidnap Aide Sentenced

CHICAGO (AP) — Robert D. Lazzaro, 27, Chicago, was sentenced to five years in prison Thursday for his part in the kidnaping of an Indianapolis businessman who later was found murdered in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

The slayer was earlier sentenced to life imprisonment and another accomplice to 25 years in prison.

Judge Michael L. Igou of U. S. District Court sentenced Lazzaro on his plea of guilty to aiding the kidnaping. Lazzaro testified against his former roommates, Ray Weddel Thorburn, 36, the slayer, and Phillip A. Battaglia Jr., 24.

Lazzaro admitted he was in the apartment when William R. Loomis, 39, of Indianapolis was lured there and beaten.

He did not accompany Thorburn and Battaglia to the Upper Peninsula where Loomis was shot to death. Loomis' body was found last November in a wooded area on the Garden Peninsula.

Thorburn was sentenced to life in prison June 10 with a recommendation that he never be released, also in U. S. District Court. Battaglia was sentenced the same day.

Armed Forces Funds Trimmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $45,188,244,000 appropriation to finance American armed forces in the coming fiscal year was approved here by the House Appropriations Committee.

The measure provides for 2,653,000 uniformed personnel, 899 active ships, 29,571 active aircraft and a million paid reservists.

Those forces, the committee said in a formal report, are for the fiscal year starting July 1 and are in addition to 2,700 nuclear warheads for use of strategic forces.

The amount recommended subject to House review next week is $2.5 billion less than the Defense Department was given this year and $60.6 million less than President Johnson requested.

Trout Hatchery Needs Helpers

A trout hatching project preliminary to planting of the fry in Little Bay de Noc streams needs the assistance of volunteers, it was reported to the Delta County Sportsmen's Club at a meeting in the clubhouse Thursday night.

Harold Meiers Jr. told the club that there are 100,000 eyed rainbow trout eggs at the Meiers hatchery at Soo Hill, and that at least two volunteers are needed for one and one-half to two hours each evening for five days a week to pick out dead eggs and shells to prevent the trout from becoming diseased.

Members of the Sportsmen's Club or other interested fishermen are asked to volunteer their time to the project.

When the rainbows are one inch long they will be planted in the streams beginning about the end of July. Some will be kept until they are two inches long.

A training session for the trout project volunteer workers will be held at the hatchery at Soo Hill over the coming weekend.

It was announced that contributions to finance the trout rearing project now total about one-quarter of the cost.

The Sportsmen's Club will sponsor another Wally Taber Show in Escanaba on April 13, 1966. Cecil Rhodes will present "Northland Safari" and "Great Bear Trout" in a program at Wm. Oliver Auditorium.

The Sportsmen's Club will this year host the Top Gun Shoot, a two-day trap and skeet shoot to be held Aug. 28-

Milk Marketing Bill

The effort to enact milk marketing controls for Michigan appears headed for defeat again. Rep. Einar Erlandsen (D-Escanaba) has led the fight for this legislation in several Legislatures. The current bill zipped through the House but hung up in the Senate where the supermarket lobby gave it the same bombardment that killed earlier efforts.

The chain stores, who fight any marketing controls as a threat to their free enterprising, are not the only foes of the bill. It is feared also by housewives who have been told that it will boost the price of milk.

The Detroit News has a high editorial batting average, but it does not contribute to its hope of infallibility with an editorial titled "Plot To Gouge Consumer". It reads off: "Why is it the milk industry feels government owes it a living? . . . Industry spokesmen complain of 74 Michigan dairies going out of business in recent years as a result of 'vicious, destructive competition.' They appeal for a new law to preserve 'fair play.'"

This is exactly what the dairymen ask and the fact should not be obscured by opposition which claims that free enterprise is being attacked by a milk pricing bill. It is a fair marketing practices bill and anyone who knows about the dairy business knows that some such legislation is needed if the little dairy enterprise is to be given a chance to survive.

The basic issue here is not whether there shall be cheap milk or dear milk, but whether a small operator is to be permitted to supply some of it if he can compete with the big dairies in a fair practices market. The real threat here is monopoly, but this is being obscured by argument that the Legislature is trying to fix milk prices.

The bill would require price posting and prohibit selling below cost unless it were done to meet competition. Dealers' selling prices would be subject to state approval, and the News says the Michigan Department of Agriculture would become "the state's official milk price fixer under the bill the milk industry wants. It would be tragic to see Michigan decide it owes every milkman a living just because the competition is getting rough."

Representative Erlandsen didn't set out to create a price-fixing system when he undertook again the leadership of the effort to end the throat cutting in the dairy business, which is so important to the agricultural economy in his home Upper Peninsula.

The bill's opponents have tagged it a price-fixing bill, but it would not fix prices. The bill is titled "Dairy Industry Unfair Trade Practices Act" and its purpose is to regulate Michigan dairy industry economics; the seventh largest in the nation, employing 250,000 persons and producing goods worth $230 million in 1964.

The bill is designed to protect the small dairyman and he's on the edge of the axe today. Jack Rose, lobbyist for the Michigan Chain Stores Council, which represents 22 of the state's major chains says "Why shouldn't we eliminate those who can't keep up? Why should we be forced to pay the dairymen who is inefficient?"

This kind of talk scares the housewife. It makes sense to her. But the little dairyman's problem is not chiefly that he cannot meet the big dairy's milk prices, but that he has not its resources. He has to live on the profit of his little operation; he cannot lose on it and make it up elsewhere like the big dairy. If his competitor elects to give customers free freezers, or signs, discounts, credit, etc., he cannot do likewise.

When he is eliminated, as he certainly will be unless the State of Michigan finds itself capable of enforcing fair trade, the survivor can jack up the prices to recover the losses incurred in the extermination of competition. The housewife's real protection is in competition, not in a phony low price on milk offered as a loss leader to attract her trade, which makes up the loss on other items.

Erlandsen's bill may be disputed, but his cause is impeccable and in the best traditions of American free enterprise.

Income Levels

The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics says that doctors head a list of 321 occupations by earning an average annual income of $14,561.

This may not be as much as you have suspected your doctor makes, even on the average. But it's almost $2,000 more than the average yearly income of bankers and financiers, who are in second place with $12,757.

Lawyers are third with $10,587. It is perhaps indicative of something or other that clergymen, with an average of 17.1 years of education, do somewhat better financially than bartenders, but not as well as truck drivers.

The clergymen earn an average of $4,008 a year to rank 245th, while the truck drivers make $4,188 and the bartenders $3,740. But bartenders meet such interesting people.

As long as we're snooping, we may as well know that airline pilots average $10,000 a year, college presidents $9,704, funeral directors and embalmers $5,803, veterinarians $8,882, and bootblacks $847.

And while the survey didn't say so, an important fact is that no matter how much you may make compared with all these other people, it isn't enough.

And you don't need a survey to tell you so. Right?

Quicker Mail

There should be little legislative difficulty in implementing the latest suggestion from the Post Office for improving postal service.

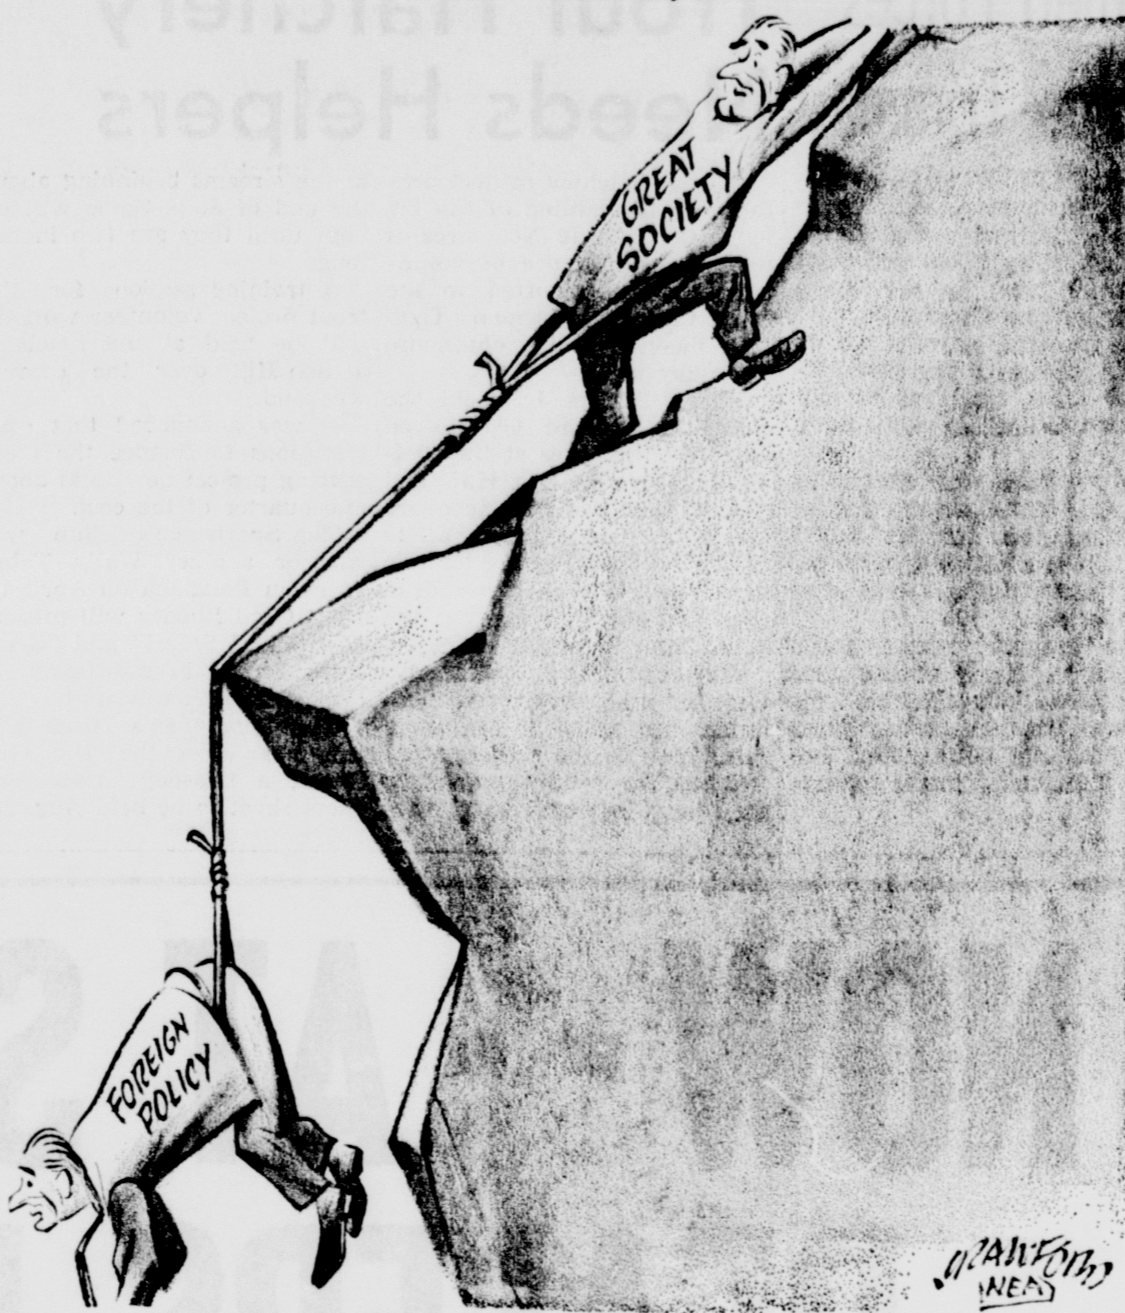

Under the plan, which requires congressional approval before it can begin, first-class mail would be delivered by the fastest means available—whether it be air, rail, water, road or shank's mare.

This would mean overnight delivery for 95 per cent of all letters, according to Postmaster General John A. Gronouski. Air mail as a separate postal category would be eliminated, although air delivery between cities would continue to be the fastest method in most cases.

An analysis of mail service between 2,000 pairs of cities by the Air Transport Association shows that on an annual basis the new service would mean: 6.2 billion letters would be delivered one day sooner; 971 million would be delivered two days sooner; 388 million three days sooner and 19 million four days sooner.

Uncertain as yet is the stamp price of priority mail. One possibility is a compromise between the present 5 cents for surface first-class and 8 cents for air mail.

Onward and Upward

Cool Off Dominica

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The longer the present junta vs. rebel stalemate continues in the Dominican Republic, the greater is the prospect that negotiators might go below the level of political irreconcilables to put together a mere caretaker government of bureaucratic technicians.

This notion has taken hold as the outlook for compromise among the Dominican contenders has grown progressively weaker. The Gulf is simply too wide, and the attitudes on both sides too unyielding. A new approach is needed.

There is agreement, of course that elections are the real objective. In the view of some Latin-American specialists here, taking account of the present impasse, this goal may now be best achieved in one of these ways:

1. Elections could be held in 30 to 60 days, with a minimum of preparation.

This course might become sheer necessity if the Inter-American negotiators should find it impossible even to promote a caretaker government of technicians. Efforts in this field are still not much better than exploratory.

2. With some sort of interim government functioning, elections might be scheduled more reasonably for a period three to six months after the provisional leaders took the reins.

This plan would have the advantage of allowing a real cooling off among the Dominican forces. Hopefully, their passions would be channeled into fairly well-prepared election campaigning.

3. Should continued hot-headedness make this avenue an impractical one, elections could be postponed until the official end—16 months from now—of the term to which the deposed, exiled Juan Bosch was elected as president.

In the mercurial mix that constitutes Dominican politics, this much delay in elections is seen as risky. A far earlier start toward a new stability is regarded as advisable if it can be managed. Furthermore, it is accepted that Inter-American armed forces, with a large U. S. component, must remain on the island until after elections—and 16 months is a long time.

Sensitive to charges from some quarters that administration men are, in effect, "black plotters" bent upon imposing plans of strictly U. S. manufacture upon the Dominican people, officials here insist "we have no plan."

The view offered is that the President and his Latin-American experts are prepared to accept any solution that genuinely moves the Dominicans toward a hopeful government of their own choosing.

To be sure, U. S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker is on the three-man OAS team now exploring the whole range of prospects, but ambassadors from Brazil and El Salvador round out the group. It is argued that neither Bunker nor any other U. S. official will attempt to dictate the course of this endeavor.

A quick election, however, is clearly not an appealing solution here. The civil conflict on the island has so polarized political attitudes that some sort of party realignment now seems inevitable. A considerable span of time is thought to be needed for these adjustments. Time may also be required for the Dominican people to sort out their notions about the kind of constitution they wish to live by. Documents adopted successively in 1962 and 1963 enjoy varying degrees of island support today, but to most citizens they are little more than crudely grasped symbols.

Responsible officials see continuing peril in these and other uncertainties. While elections are the general goal on all sides, it is not imagined that they will magically produce leaders of high governing talent. This lack is severe.

Nor is it overlooked that a winning party in a legitimate election might be infiltrated and ultimately taken over by Communist elements (which are said to be still highly visible in rebel-held parts of Santo Domingo.)

Since our landing of troops in sizable force several weeks ago was explained as necessary to forestall a possible Red take-over, one might fairly ask how we can now contemplate this as a conceivable consequence of a future election.

The only answer that could make sense is that in late April President Johnson saw a Communist triumph as very likely, while the subversion of a fairly elected popular Dominican government would have to be adjudged a far dimmer prospect.

The Doctor Says:

Glaucoma Aggravated

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Q — Is it safe to take medicine for a thyroid deficiency if you have glaucoma? Why is it when you take a diuretic the pressure in the eyeball goes down, then when you stop it goes up again?

A — The thyroid preparations given for a thyroid deficiency can be taken without fear. In glaucoma there is an obstruction to the outflow of the fluid within the eyeball. This is aggravated when the total blood volume is increased by drinking excessive amounts of water and partially relieved when water is eliminated from the body by taking water pills (diuretics) or by excessive sweating.

Q — Is it possible to have a cataract with glaucoma? If so, would an operation improve the sight?

A — Since glaucoma is a disease of the eye's fluid-circulating mechanism and cataract is a disease of the crystalline lens there is no connection between the two diseases. It is possible (but not advisable) to have both. Both can be treated by operation and in either case the result should be improved vision.

Q — My doctor has been giving me Bonnatol tablets for my colitis. Are there any ingredients in them that would increase the pressure in the eyeballs? I am terribly afraid of glaucoma and would like to

Wives Take Up Belly Dancing

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —

Eight women, three of them housewives, are starting a new hobby. They are learning the art of Mideast belly dancing.

All said they were doing it just for fun and that they would be afraid to perform in public.

Teaching the intricate maneuvers of the belly dancing is Susanne Hoffman, 23, a secretary. When she's teaching her specialty, at the school (The Penn Center Dance Club) however, she's known as Princess Neila.

Describing the dance, Miss Hoffman, or Princess Neila, said:

"It's not just jumping around. It's an art.

"People just don't appreciate the beauty of the dance. It's so frustrating to dance for Americans. A lot of them think it's a strip or something. All they do is make wisecracks.

"I dance to Greek music, which isn't so authentic because it's slower and in 5-4 time, rather than Arabian 7-8 time.

"And I move my feet too much. Also I don't do the real stomach rolling. To do that you have to start practicing as soon as you can walk. It's extremely hard."

The class, besides the three housewives, includes a student, two dancers, a ceramics teacher and a photographer.

"I'm doing it for personal satisfaction," said one student, Marie Vartanian, 30, the mother of three children.

Her sister-in-law, Pat Vartanian, also the mother of three, said, "I'm doing it for release."

Boost Approved In Debt Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has given final congressional approval to a bill that raises to $328 billion the legal limit on the national debt in the year that starts July 1.

The current ceiling is $324 billion but it would drop to the permanent limit of $285 billion July 1 in the absence of action.

Senate passage Wednesday came first by a voice vote. Later the Republicans demanded a roll call and the measure was approved 61 to 26.

Ann Landers

Sounds Like He Hits The Bottle

Dear Ann Landers: I'm writing this letter through tears, as I gaze upon two burned sirloin steaks, two over-baked Idaho potatoes, two wilted salads and a fallen chocolate soufflé.

Paul is no kid. He is past 25, and we've been engaged two years. I can't count the number of times he has stood me up like this. The date is always set at his convenience. Then, after I've knocked myself out preparing dinner, Paul doesn't show up.

If he called (even at the last minute) and said he couldn't make it, I'd accept his excuse whatever it was, but I never hear a word until the next day. He is always so-o-o-o-o-o-o-o sorry — but he ran into a buddy, or his boss asked him to go on an urgent mission or his mother got sick.

We've talked about this problem dozens of times and he doesn't know why he forgets to call me. He promises, "It won't happen again," but it always does. What does this sound like to you? — ANGRY

Dear Angry: It sounds to me like Paul drinks a little — or a lot. This is a wild guess since you gave no hint that he is on the grape, but his behavior smells like a man with liquor on his breath.

If Paul is not a booze-fighter he is inconsiderate, unreliable, and selfish in the extreme. Before you marry I'd like to remind you that a man never treats his wife better than he treats his sweetheart.

Dear Ann Landers: Our 19-year-old son brought home a bride six weeks ago. I will not attempt to make this situation sound any better than it is. Here are the facts:

The girl is about three months pregnant but she doesn't show anything yet. She is a nice person and is trying hard to be a good wife. Our son says he loves this girl very much and he is not sorry about anything. He has a good job, works a 12-hour day and hasn't asked us for help of any kind.

So far as we know, our friends and relatives are not aware of the expected baby. I am writing to ask how to deal with the situation. According to all calculations our grandchild will be 10 weeks early. We do not want to put on that "premature" baby. It has been grossly overdone in this town and nobody believes it anyway.

Is it wise to tell people now that the baby will be early? Or should we wait until the baby is born and then say we knew it would be early? — M. L. O.

Dear M. L. O.: No explanations or apologies are necessary — either before or after the arrival of the baby. Your real friends will be considerate and say nothing. You owe the others nothing.

Dear Ann Landers: I know you are not an expert on men's clothing, but I believe this is a matter of common sense, and you are an expert on that.

The fellow I am going with is an immaculate dresser. He has excellent taste in clothes and is one of the sharpest looking men in town — until you get to his feet. His socks are always down around his ankles. When he is seated you can see his chalk-white, hairy legs. They look ghastly.

I've told him fifty times that those droopy socks spoil his appearance. He tells me garters are for squares. What about this? — MISS ICK

Wear Miss: Garters are for people who want to keep their socks up. If your friend doesn't want to wear garters he can buy socks with elastic tops. Be a sport and buy him a pair and I'll bet he'll never wear any other kind.

Too many starry-eyed lovers do not know the difference. Do you? Send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Before You Marry — Is It Love Or Sex?", enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Western Nations Like U.S. Stand In S. Viet Nam

LONDON (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador at large, has decided that whatever Western governments may say publicly they are at heart in full sympathy with America's stand in South Viet Nam.

"I have made two extensive tours recently and I found that western governments in private are all glad the United States is carrying this tremendous responsibility," Lodge told newsmen at London Airport.

He took part in an Oxford University discussion of the Viet Nam problem Wednesday night.

Gains Made By GOP In Georgia

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Republicans and Negroes have gained their largest representation this century in the Georgia House of Representatives as state voters completed the final stage in House reapportionment.

Although they were soundly beaten in populous Fulton County (Atlanta) in Wednesday's general election, the Republicans won 17 of 47 contested races and now hold 22 of the 205 House seats. They gained 13 over the 1964 House seating, plus two unopposed seats.

Negroes won eight seats, gaining representation in the House for the first time since 1907.

Ninety-four races were settled in primary elections and reapportionment last March under federal court order allowed 64 representatives to retain their seats without running.

After the court ruled the House had to be reapportioned on a population basis, the legislature took away the lopsided rural weight and gave urban areas a greater voice.

CHARM OF ANTIQUITY: This is a variation of the Queen Anne house style brought to America by early settlers and still popular in many parts of the country; gambrel roof permits full use of second floor for four bedrooms and two baths.

Queen Anne Design

A colonial house can be any one of a number of architectural styles.

Early American homes varied considerably. How they were built depended mainly on the national derivation of the first immigrants, but also on such things as climatic conditions in different areas and the availability of certain materials. Thus, there were Georgians, Cape Cods, Dutch Colonials, Garrisons, Spanish stuccos and many others, each with several variations.

One of the most interesting of these was the Queen Anne. Like the Dutch Colonial, it had a gambrel roof; that is, a roof with a broken slope of two different angles. The principal difference between the two styles was the presence in the Queen Anne of dormer windows in the lower part of the roof.

A variation of the Queen Anne has been created by architect William G. Chirgott for the House of the Week series. The gambrel roof has been designed with no attempt to achieve a slope of a certain number of degrees, but for the particular purpose of sheltering all four bedrooms on the second floor without sacrificing floor space. The roof lines, the large chimney, the cupola, the white cedar shingles and the small, white picket fence at the front all add to the free interpretation of this colonial design.

While the exterior of Design H-87 has all the charm of the 18th century houses of its type, its floor plan fulfills the requirements of modern residential layouts. The much-desired good traffic pattern is evident, since one can go from the foyer to the kitchen, dining room, living room and family room on the first floor, or to the bedrooms on the second floor, without cross-room circulation.

The combined kitchen-breakfast room arrangement offers more than 18' of width across the back of the house. The U-shape of the work area provides a maximum of counter tops and cabinets in a minimum amount of space. The picture window in the breakfast section or dinette—and the window over the kitchen sink—assure plenty of light and air as well as a clear view of the backyard. Only a few steps away is the rear service entry with a mud-room closet adjacent to the laundry room.

The living room has wall areas well suited to various kinds of furniture arrangements as does the adjacent dining room. Off the entrance foyer are a lavatory at one end and, on the other, an open stair with a midway platform for well-lighted halls on both floors. Informality would likely be the order of the day in the family room, nearly 20' long, with pine-paneled walls, a brick fireplace and a large sliding glass door leading to the spacious outdoor terrace.

On the second floor, three bedrooms are close to the main family bathroom. The fourth room, occupying the entire rear of the floor, is called a master bedroom suite by the architect. It has two large walk-in closets, a large private bath with a tiled shower stall, a full-length counter vanity and a compartment enclosed water closet. Entrance into the bathroom is through louvered doors which may be left open, if desired, to provide a "dressing room" appearance.

The old-time flavor of this house has been preserved by having a rear auto entrance to the two-car garage. The front of the garage thus seems to be part of the over-all structure. However, access to the garage can be made directly from the foyer by means of the portico that shelters the front entrance.

Michigan War Flags Restored

LANSING (AP) — Nineteen Michigan Civil War battle flags were returned to their permanent exhibit cases in the State Capitol Rotunda Wednesday after they underwent extensive restoration by a New York expert.

The flags, carried into battle by men of Michigan's 5th through 11th infantry regiments, had been shredded by shot and shell of numerous battles.

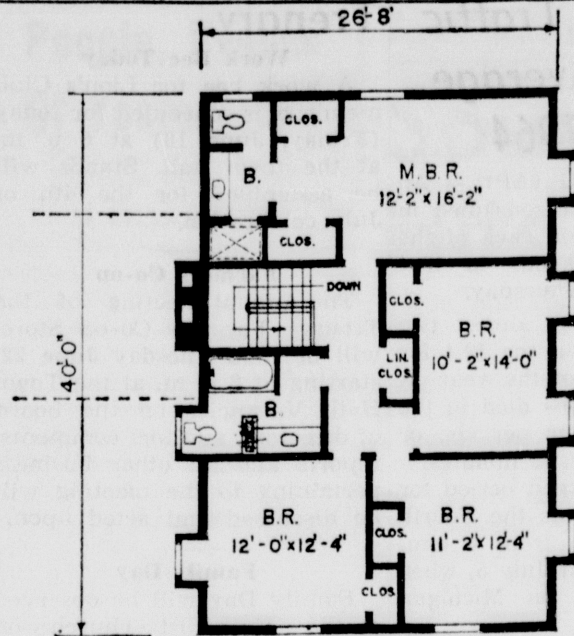

There were 116 of these Civil War colors presented to the state in 1866. They were installed in air-tight cases in the rotunda in 1909.

The flags slowly deteriorated with time, and in 1963 the legislature appropriated $12,500 for a restoration program by the Michigan Historical Commission. Another $10,000 is being asked in the budget this year for continuation of the project.

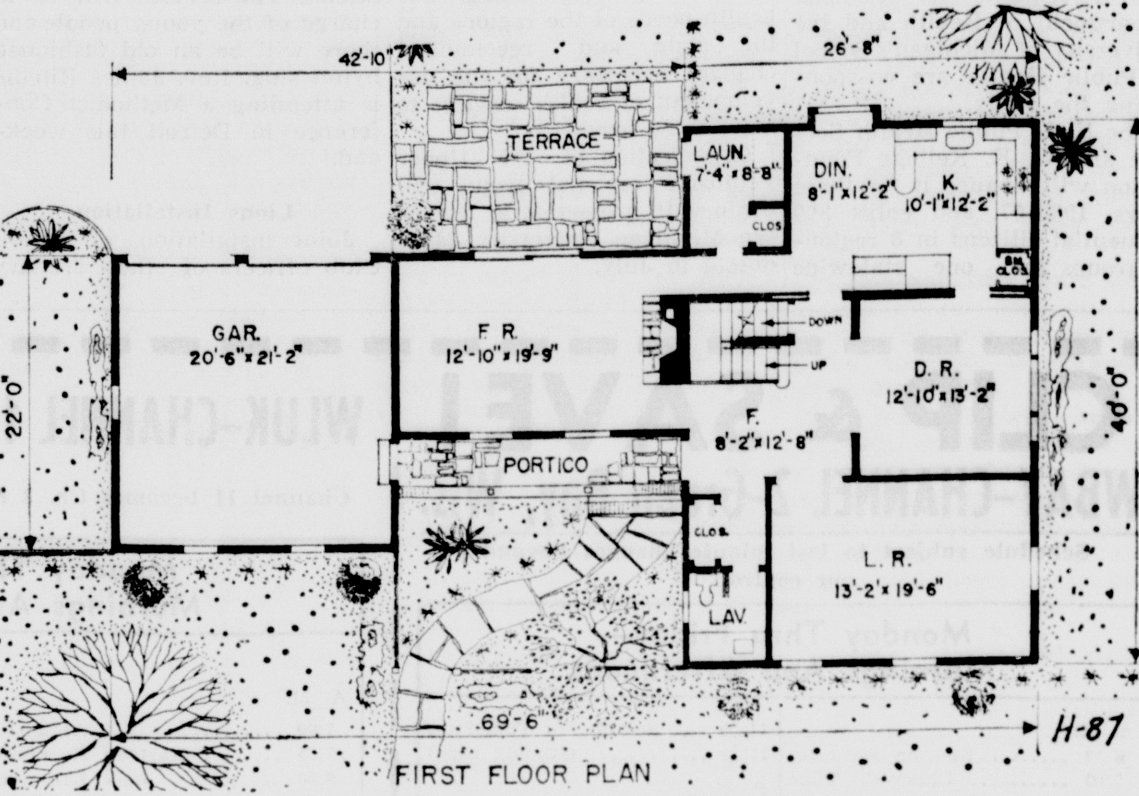

Mrs. Josephine Roser of Fort Montgomery, N.Y., an expert in flag restoration, since has restored 38 of the flags.

The flags of the 11th through 15th Michigan infantry divisions were taken out of their cases Wednesday for shipment to New York for restoration.

It takes four to six months to process one case of flags and it will be several years before the restoration project is completed.

H-87 SECOND FLOOR PLAN

FLOOR PLANS: The rooms at the right comprise the basic structural portion of the first floor of this two-story house; the family room and the two-car garage at the left are also at ground level but are under a separate roof.

H-87 STATISTICS

Design H-87 has a living room, dining room, foyer, lavatory, kitchen, dinette, family room and laundry room on the first floor, totaling 1356 square feet of habitable area. Also on this floor are a two-car garage, rear terrace and covered front portico. There are four bedrooms and two baths on the second floor, adding 1060 square feet of living space. The over-all dimensions, including the garage and rear terrace, are 69' 6" by 40'. There is a full basement. The front walkway can be straight-line concrete or curved flagstones.

Jewish Grave Stones Smeared

BAMBERG, West Germany (AP) — The little Jew stood sadly in Bamberg's Jewish cemetery and tears came to his eyes.

Before him were gravestones smeared with swastikas and anti-Semitic slogans.

"During Hitler's time there were worse things done," he said sadly. "But now, 20 years after, this — It is a real shock."

Venom was smeared in red, brown, gray and white over the Hebrew and German inscriptions on the tombstones. On one, a picture of Hitler had been attached. Under it was written "here rests a Jew pig."

Across four stones was "The SS is alive—6,000,000 are too few." The Nazis murdered 6 million Jews.

The little Jew watched as two young men from Bamberg's YMCA placed a wreath on one of the defiled graves. A ribbon on the wreath said: "Bamberg's youth mourns. Forgive us, brothers." A representative of the city's workers laid a similar wreath.

Bamberg, a conservative Bavarian city, saw its synagogue burned down by SS (Elite Guard) men and rowdies Nov. 8-9, 1938. Willy Lessing, a popular Jewish citizen of the city, was beaten to death when he tried to save the synagogue's Holy Scriptures.

After the war, city authorities named a street for Willy Lessing. It pursued its rebuilding from war destruction and pursued its Bavarian politics and predominantly Roman Catholic ways. Until Sunday, June 13.

That was the day the city fathers had scheduled the unveiling of a monument to the burned synagogue. Two hours before the ceremony, a swastika was discovered smeared on the shrine. On the wall of a building facing the monument were the words "judas verrecke," a misspelling of the old Nazi cry "juda verrecke" which incited mobs to kill Jews.

Who? Why? Bamberg is asking itself.

"I think a new organization has sprung up and will get bold-er yet," said the sad little man, one of 71 Jews left in Bamberg. There were 1,200 before Hitler.

Mayor Theodore Mathieu told about 4,000 Bambergers at a rally Wednesday night the crime was committed by "malignant creatures."

Eydie To Sing In 'Fanfare'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV/Radio Writer

NEWYORK (AP) — Singer Eydie Gorme, her dark hair covered by a red bandana, in blue denim slacks and white sneakers, was busily rehearsing her numbers for Saturday night's premier of "Fanfare," the musical variety hour which will take over CBS' Jackie Gleason hour for the warm weather months.

Production assistants, musicians, camera men hustled around like ants in a disturbed hill as composed Eydie listened, offered opinions about her guest part in the show which stars trumpeter Al Hirt. When the lunch break came, Eydie retreated to her dressing room for a rest and a cup of coffee. Then it was clear that, although musical variety television shows were on her mind, her greatest interest was, not for Hirt's summer series, but a new fall program called "The Steve Lawrence Show." Steve, of course, is Eydie's singer-actor husband and the father of David, 5, and Michael, 3.

"The report that Steve won't let me appear on his show is not true," she announced. "All I said was that he hasn't asked me — and he hasn't — yet. Steve and I have been in this business for so long that it's almost silly that we are both still so excited about it. You know, everybody thinks Steve has to be about 43 because he's been around so long. The truth is that he made his first hit record — 'Poinciana' — when he was 15."

"Steve has been offered so many series — comedy series and dramatic series. But although they are very interesting to any performer because of the financial thing, Steve decided that he didn't want to be locked into a series at this point in his career. But a variety show — that was different."

California Loses Mosquito Battle

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — "Instant fish" will be tested this summer as a weapon against mosquitoes whose itchy menace is spreading swiftly in California.

The inch-long fish from Brazil and Argentina will be planted in rice fields. They live about a year and gobble mosquito larvae. Each female fish lays hundreds of eggs.

The rice fields are flooded from May to September, but drained at the end of the season. The eggs of the South American fish can survive drying out for up to two years, however. When the fields are flooded again, the eggs hatch within 20 minutes, giving rise to the nickname "instant fish."

More Than Ever

Despite a $6-million annual abatement program, California is losing its war on mosquitoes. There are more than ever before in the state's history.

Besides their annoying bite and buzz, mosquitoes are potential carriers of malaria, yellow fever, dengue-breakbone-fever, filariasis—elephantiasis—hemorrhagic fever, encephalitis—sleeping sickness—and other diseases, including heartworm in dogs.

In 1952, the state recorded 800 cases of encephalitis when continuing rain and mild weather led to a great surge in the species of mosquito—culex tarsalis—that carries the disease.

That was the last serious epidemic of encephalitis in the state. But Richard F. Peters, chief of the California Bureau of Vector Control, fears another combination of circumstances, intensified by continuing failure of control methods, can bring on a worse epidemic.

Like other insects, mosquitoes have developed resistance to most of the toxic chemicals used against them.

"A toss-up exists whether new techniques will be available before present control technology fails completely," says Peters.

Hatched By Irrigation

Public health officials note that California harbors 43 species of mosquitoes, including carriers of all the diseases named.

The chief reason for California's mosquito population explosion is the state's intensive farm system, most of it requiring irrigation. Nine million acres are under irrigation now, a quarter of all such land in the United States. Acreage will be doubled by a vast federal-state water development program under construction.

Researchers at the University of California and the Bureau of Vector Control laboratory in Fresno are attacking the problem from many angles.

The South American "instant fish" are being tested by Dr. Ernest Bay of the university's Riverside campus, center of chemical research for the World Health Organization's malarial control program.

Dr. Bay says he believes that insect diseases and his "instant fish" offer the best opportunity for mosquito control.

Space Program At 5.2 Billion

Both houses gave voice-vote approval Wednesday to the bill, which is nearly $70 million less than President Johnson requested.

The thigh bones of the Brachiosaurus measured seven feet.

Offering At Adventist For Nurnberg Center

An evangelistic center in historic Nurnberg, Germany, is the aim of members of the Escanaba Seventh-day Adventist Church as they join some 12,000 other Adventist Churches in the project.

About 600 church members in Nurnberg are currently meeting in emergency barracks erected after three meeting houses and a church were destroyed in World War II.

A church-wide appeal from world headquarters in Washington, D. C., has been issued for funds to implement evangelistic programs throughout Germany. All money in excess of an allotted sum for Germany will go to Nurnberg, where an evangelistic center is planned.

Mrs. Joseph Hainault, Sabbath School superintendent of the local church, said that a final report of a three-month series from Germany will be presented at the Escanaba Adventist Church this Saturday, June 26.

The Adventist Church is well represented in Germany, according to Mrs. Hainault. A seminary and junior college in Darmstadt, a publishing house and health food factory in Hamburg, a 200-bed hospital in Berlin, near the border of the Eastern Sector are operated by the church. In the Eastern zone the church has a seminary in Friedensburg. Welfare centers, youth hospitals, and homes for the elderly are operated by the church on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

Indians Are Challenging With Vaudeville Pitchers

By The Associated Press

Sammy, Sonny and Luis sounds like a vaudeville team but there's nothing funny about their performance. Just ask the frustrated American League hitters.

The trio — Sammy McDowell, Sonny Siebert and Luis Tiant — has been the hottest pitching tandem in the junior circuit the last four weeks. And because of them, the Cleveland Indians, hardly given a mention in the pre-season prognostications, are breathing down the necks of the league leaders.

In seventh place a month ago, the Indians today are in fourth place, only 3½ games off the pace.

More To Tiger Homer Attack Than Horton

DETROIT (AP)—The Boston Red Sox learned much to their chagrin Thursday that it takes more than holding Willie Horton hitless to beat the "Comeback Gang," better known as the Detroit Tigers.

Horton, who entered the game batting .600 against the Red Sox, went hitless in four trips.

But the Tigers rallied and scored four runs on homers by Dick McAuliffe, Al Kaline and Norm Cash to hand the Red Sox their seventh straight defeat, 6-5.

"It sure was nice to see some of us oldtimers come through for a change," Kaline said after the Tigers had come from behind for the 19th time in 32 triumphs. Detroit extended its winning streak to five games.

Rare For Cash

Cash, who struck the game-winning blow when he homered leading off the Detroit eighth, said he wouldn't even guess when he hit his last homer.

"Maybe this will get me back on the beam," the Detroit first sacker said. "It sure felt good—a high, outside fast ball—just right for me."

Cash said he remembered his last homer was hit off Don Lee of the Los Angeles Angels. The date, he was told, was April 27. The Tigers had one of their chief tormentors — Carl Yastrzemski — to thank for their latest success.

Yastrzemski knocked in three of the Boston runs, two of them with a home run off Joe Sparna in the first inning. It was Yastrzemski's ninth home run of the season, the last five of which have come against Detroit.

Mental Mistake

But in the seventh inning, after walking to lead off, he took off for second with Felix Mantilla at the plate and stopped short just before reaching the bag. He was an easy out. He had thought that Mantilla had walked. The count was really 2-and-2.

Mantilla singled and scored the final Boston run when Lee Thomas doubled.

The Tigers were making little progress against Boston starter Jerry Stephenson until the seventh inning.

Two Boston errors gave them a run in the first inning and Jerry Lumpe followed McAuliffe's single in the fifth with a double for the second run.

McAuliffe homered with one out in the seventh and Arnold Earley relieved Stephenson after he had walked Lumpe. Earley got Don Demeter to fly out, but Kaline homered to tie the score.

"The other players picked up when Horton was stopped. That's a sign of a good team," an elated Manager Charlie Dressen said. The victory brought his record over the .500 mark (8-7) for the first time since he resumed command.

Fox Gets Win

"I hope this will help Cash," Dressen said. "His ankle is still bothering him and I'll keep him out against lefthanders to let the injury heal."

"I don't expect him to hit .360. But he's good for a .280 average and that's all I ask," Dressen added.

Cash echoed the statement somewhat when he said he felt he had been letting the team down.

"They've been doing pretty well without me," Cash observed. "But if I can start to do my part—say 25 homers and a lot of runs batted in—we're going to be a lot tougher."

Terry Fox, the loser in both games of the doubleheader last Friday night, pitched the last two innings to win and bring his record to 4-3.

Nicklaus Skids In First Round As Nagle Leads

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Jack Nicklaus surveyed the collapse of his game, wrecked by the tricky winds and a kink in his swings, then calmly announced: "I still think I can shoot this course in 65 or 66. And that kind of golf will win it."

The Ohio strongboy never recovered from a double bogey 6 on the first hole of the U.S. Open Golf Tournament Thursday and staggered in 10 strokes back of Australian Kel Nagle's leading 68.

Nicklaus, however, had some high-priced company. Arnold Palmer, the slumping four-time Masters champion, limped home with a 76 and defending champion Ken Venturi's dream of a repeat burst on a shocking 81.

All three may have trouble making the cut at the halfway point tonight when the starting field of 136 pros and 14 amateurs is trimmed to a low 50 and ties. Four already have dropped out and the troubled Venturi has hinted he, too, may have had enough.

Stricken with a circulatory ailment in his right hand, Venturi had 40 putts on his round and said: "I had practically no feeling in my hand. I hope I can play Friday."

The 7,191 yards of the Bellerive Country Club course, longest ever for a U.S. Open, shocked the experts who called it a hitter's course and gobbled up the sluggers.

All the leaders are singles hitters.

The 44-year-old Nagle, who once won the British Open but has never won in the United States, never has been a slugger. He's one stroke up on amateur Deane Beman, another light hitter, and Mason Rudolph, a tour regular, the only others to break par 70.

With the batters finally catching on, the standings in the Escanaba Jaycee Little League underwent a severe shake-up in the past week. Rotary moved into the top spot, the Eagles vacated the cellar and the cinderella Kiwanis team delivered the blows that dropped VFW from the top of the heap.

In the feature game of the week Dave Moberg beat Doug Howard and the V.F.W. 5-3 on two hits while whiffing 13.

Howard who has averaged one walk per game for the season, put two of them together in the bottom of the third and Mike Backlund, Cliff DeSalvo and Moberg followed up with hits for four runs and the ball game.

Brendon Williams added an insurance run in the fourth with a towering home run over the right field fence, but his big contribution to the series came when he shut out V.F.W. 8-0 in the return game.

Meanwhile Rotary was clobbering everything that has been served up to them by scoring 50 runs in their last three games.

THE CRUISE ship South American brought several hundred Greater Detroit Board of Commerce members to Escanaba today. ## Ship Passengers Enjoy Escanaba

The Escanaba area turned on sunshine and smiles for several hundred Greater Detroit Board of Commerce cruise passengers today, giving them a warm greeting on one of stops of a cruise of Lake Huron and northern Lake Michigan.

Docking at 7 a. m., the S. S. South American's passengers disembarked for a morning of golf, bowling, sight-seeing, industrial tours, and fishing.

Among the passengers is U. S. Senator Pat McNamara; Willis H. Hall, president of the Detroit Board of Commerce; and Frank B. Woodford, author of "Lewis Cass" and other books relating to Michigan's history.

At noon Escanaba Chamber of Commerce directors, city officials, and others were guests aboard the cruise ship for a luncheon program. Willis spoke to the group and welcomed the guests, and the response was by John J. Mitchell, president of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce.

The day was one of recreation and relaxation for the passengers. Some participated in a bowling tournament at the Holiday Bowl, others golfed at the Country Club, some went fishing on a tug operated by Curtis Dahm, and there were sight-seeing and industrial tours as well.

Transportation for the passengers was provided through the courtesy of the Senior Citizens committee. The cruise ends Sunday with the return to Detroit.

Prenatal Classes For New Parents Planned In July

Bay de Noc Community College, the Delta-Menominee District Health Dept., St. Francis Hospital and the American Red Cross will join forces next month to sponsor a series of prenatal classes for expectant parents.

First class will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, July 13, at Bay de Noc Community College.

The classes are designed to increase the understanding of the process of labor and delivery and to inform and instruct expectant parents in the skills of child care.

Included in the tentative format of the class is a hospital tour of labor and delivery rooms, a review of the reproductive system, growth of the baby, good health habits, prenatal care, care of the baby and preparation for formulas, etc. There will be no charge for the class.

Castro Slips As Promoter Of Revolutions

patching together reports from Havana since the widely publicized meeting there of world Communist representatives last November. They have concluded that Soviet influence prevailed.

The Soviet Communists still want to see Latin-American revolution, but Moscow is not anxious to adventure into any dangerous collision with the United States in the Western Hemisphere. Moscow has enough to keep it occupied in its own front and back yards.

Evidently Castro was obliged to subordinate his own ambitions to the needs of Soviet policy. He then apparently sought to serve as peace intermediary between Peking and Moscow. This is believed in some circles to be the reason he sent Ernesto Guevara, the apostle of Guerilla warfare and the Chinese way, to Peking early this year.

Guevara's mission is reported to have been to persuade the Chinese to make some concessions to Moscow's arguments for the sake of promoting Latin-American revolution. If so, the mission failed. The performance of the Communists in Latin America since then is considered another strong indication that the Moscow-Peking chasm is as wide as ever.

will be spending more time on national security affairs, working with assistant McGeorge Bundy.

Johnson said at the outset he would limit questioning to 20 minutes following his opening statements. Actually, he failed to confine himself to one hour — ignoring several cries of "Thank you, Mr. President."

As he remarked at one point: "I'll give you five more minutes for me to talk."

MINISTERS AGREE

LONDON (AP) — Leaders of the British Commonwealth embarked on a campaign today to get a Viet Nam peace mission of five government chiefs into Peking.

The prime ministers and presidents of the 21 nations, meeting here for the 14th Commonwealth conference, agreed Thursday to British Prime Minister Harold Wilson's proposal that he lead four of their number to Washington, Moscow, Saigon, Hanoi and the Red Chinese capital.

President Johnson said the Commonwealth mission would have his government's "full cooperation." The South Vietnamese and Soviet governments were expected to welcome it.

But the Red Chinese and the North Vietnamese refused to receive an earlier British peace emissary, former Foreign Secretary Patrick Gordon Walker, and it remained to be seen whether they would be any more receptive to the commonwealth group.

U.S. officials expressed doubt that they would.

A British spokesman said if either Peking or Hanoi refuses to receive the mission, "it will be their responsibility" before world opinion.

The spokesman said the five men will travel as a group and "their intention is to move very quickly." He said they would speak in the name of the Commonwealth as a whole and will say only what they have been authorized to say by the 21-nation organization.

Named to the mission with Wilson were two Africans, President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana and Prime Minister Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa of Nigeria; one from the Western Hemisphere, Prime Minister Eric Williams of Trinidad and Tobago, and one from Asia, Prime Minister Dudley Senanayake of Ceylon.

Their goal is to set up negotiations for peace in Viet Nam.

Million Dollar Question Will Be Put To Voters

By CLINT DUNATHAN

What will the people of the City of Escanaba do with $1,000,000?

That question, which is within the authority of the City Council to answer, will be asked the voters in an advisory election to be held soon. The date of the election will be set by the Council.

The $1,000,000 came to the City through the sale of the municipal gas utility to Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. for $725,000—plus about $275,000 in the gas utility reserves.

Meanwhile the money is invested in U. S. Government Bonds as required by state law and is earning 4 per cent interest.

Mayor George Rusch and Councilman Harold J. Vanlerbergh expressed concern that the voters should have a voice in how the funds are expended.

Advisory Vote
City Attorney John G. Erickson pointed out that under law the funds must be invested in government bonds; and that the principal and the earnings may be expended only for capital improvements.

The only question the voters might be able to answer would be: To what capital improvement use shall the funds be expended? And even then, their answer would be only of an advisory nature to the Council. The answer would not be binding on this or any future Council.

Councilman Vanlerbergh said he would like to have a vote on the question of whether the "money should be invested and only the interest used." The interest revenue from the approximately one million dollars would be about $42,000 annually.

Earnings Only

Mayor Rusch noted that the $42,000 plus the present 2 mills or about $58,000 for capital improvements could be doubled with federal funds to give the city about $200,000 a year for capital improvement projects.

A resolution was adopted by the Council to place on the ballot (perhaps at a special election to be held soon) the question of whether only the earnings shall be used and the one million dollar principal retained.

Should the people approve, the opinion of the Council will be confirmed that this is the wiser use of the funds; rather than to expend the principal as well in financing some needed capital improvements project or projects.

Several Projects

Should the people reject the proposal to use only earnings and not to touch the principal, it would open the door to further consideration of capital improvement projects that have been sought by the community for a number of years. Among these are a new recreation-civic centre, swimming pool, indoor skating rink, and others.

Voting for adoption of the resolution to submit the "earnings only" proposal to the voters were Mayor Rusch and Councilmen Vanlerbergh and H. George Nelson. Councilman Glen Moreau had to leave the meeting before the question came up. Councilman Jacob Bink did not attend the meeting because of illness.

In other business last night the Council:

Approved the bid of U. P. Concrete Co. to supply the city with concrete pipe. The bid price was $4,430.

Delay Action

Adopted an ordinance regulating the installation and use of oil burning and gas burning equipment; heard City Manager George Harvey report that Stanley Nelson will serve as inspector under the program; and then deferred until a later meeting the name of a board of examiners to administer the ordinance.

Approved transfer of an SDM license from National Foods to Miracle Markets; approved a compensation plan for a library clerical assistant recommended by the Civil Service Commission; and named Councilman Nelson to serve on the Citizens Safety Advisory committee.

An ordinance designed to prohibit minors under the age of 21 from frequenting places where alcoholic beverages are sold was tabled for further study. Also tabled was a proposed ordinance to aid property owners in controlling traffic on their parking lots.

Held over to the next meeting was a proposal to organize a commerce committee of citizens who would encourage the development of air, water and land transportation facilities.

Viet Cong Army Jungle Bombed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Scores of U.S. planes—including 27 B52 heavy bombers making their debut in combat—rained tons of bombs, napalm and rockets into three square miles of Viet Cong jungle today. Ground troops that searched the area found no enemy casualties from the big air attack, military spokesmen said.

Two of the giant eight-engine bombers were lost in a collision over the South China Sea. An amphibious rescue plane made a perilous landing in 12-foot seas to rescue four survivors and picked up the body of a fifth flier, an Air Force spokesman in Manila reported.

Seven other airmen were missing, and the rescue plane was tossed on the stormy sea, unable to take off because of a damaged propeller. The survivors were transferred to a passing freighter, but the plane's crewmen stayed aboard to await a Navy ship.

Vietnamese ground units clashed briefly with an estimated 20 Viet Cong in the bombed area, killing one guerrilla and wounding 10 others. The troops also reportedly destroyed about 6,000 pounds of rice, but no other major results were reported.

The object of the mission was to catch a large concentration of Viet Cong believed to be in the jungle. Some reports said it was believed accompanied by Chinese Communist advisers.

It never touches a drop.

The Volkswagen is cooled by air. Not water. An ingenious advantage. Since air cannot freeze, the Volkswagen engine cannot. Even at temperatures below zero, it is safe and sound.

The VW has no radiator problems for an eloquently simple reason.

It has no radiator.

Viz: It never needs anti-freeze. It never needs flushing out. There is no radiator hose to crack and leak and possibly lose expensive anti-freeze.

When drivers line up for anti-freeze etc. on the first bitter winter day, the VW owner is spared the annoyance.

Not to mention the expense.

The Volkswagen has an equal advantage in hot weather.

Air cannot boil any more than it can freeze. Neither can the VW.

In bumper-to-bumper traffic, when tempers and water grow short, when cars sit at the side of the road waiting to cool, the little Volkswagen goes right on past.

It is above it all. Riding on air.
